

Cape Henry Associates: Training Analysis and Solutions

In line with the U.S. Navy's Ready Relevant Learning (RRL) initiative and the training initiatives of the other U.S. military branches, Cape Henry Associates (CHA) provides a different, forward-thinking, three-part approach to training. Our Comprehensive Training Solutions incorporate the most modern methods and capabilities to provide state-of-the-art training, embracing and implementing continual technological advances with the needs of both today's military and civilian communities in mind.

Recognizing the need to move away from traditional brick-and-mortar classrooms, CHA is not just redefining what training looks like, but also reimagining what training includes with our comprehensive approach. By deconstructing the traditional model and infusing it with our technology-driven products, CHA can quickly and efficiently analyze training needs, build state-of-the-art training models and curriculum, and get a comprehensive solution into the hands of our clients.

Our Comprehensive Training Solutions comprise a three-part system that delivers:

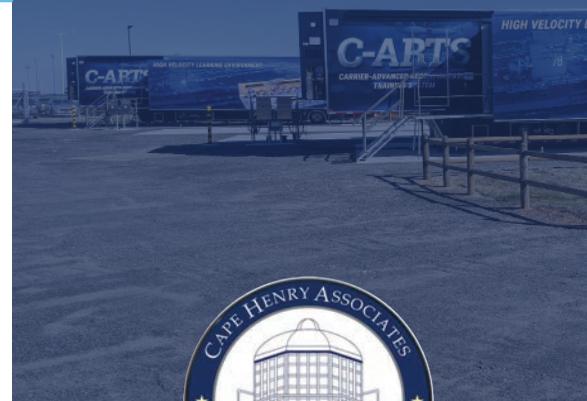

1. Career-spanning training curriculum
2. Integrated, scalable content
3. Point-of-need, technology-driven presentation

The premier vehicle for high velocity learning environments, critical to today's training needs, is the Carrier-Advanced Reconfigurable Training System (C-ARTS), commissioned by the U.S. Navy and supported by CHA's technology stack, Lighthouse.

With nearly two decades as an industry leader in Comprehensive Training Solutions, CHA is a proven provider of advanced training solutions and is perfectly situated to build custom-designed and scalable solutions to meet our clients' needs.

Clients/Contracts:

Fleet Forces Command (FFC)
PMS-312
Surface Warfare Schools Command (SWSC)
Fincantieri Marinette Marine (FMM)
Naval Facilities Engineering Systems Command (NAVFAC)

“CHA is a proven leader in the development and refining of the training analysis playbook for Comprehensive Training Solutions, with state-of-the-art training content and delivery vehicles.”

– Gretchen Boals, Program Manager for Manpower, Personnel, and Training Analysis
